Following the release of the system, the two authors and experienced teachers, Lene Sønderby Bech and Christian Nielsen, offer Chinese language courses at a special rate for members of DCBF:

Beginners course, level 1

"Nǐ hǎo Zhōngguó, kinesisk sprog og kultur for begyndere, modul 1", e-learning course or e-learning course combined with classroom teaching *.

This course is an easy and practical way to learn Mandarin Chinese. It is designed for people with little or no previous experience learning Chinese. In a flexible way it will help you to communicate in simple, useful everyday Chinese.

The focus is on practical language proficiency and developing listening and speaking skills, with an emphasis on pronunciation. The participants will learn simple sentences containing basic language structures and learn to introduce themselves in Chinese. The course also introduces Chinese culture.

This course is offered for both individuals and groups and can be tailor-made to meet specific needs.

Beginners course, level 2

”Nǐ hǎo Zhōngguó, kinesisk sprog og kultur for begyndere, modul 2” e-learning course or e-learning course combined with classroom teaching *.

This course is for those who have some basic learning experience with Mandarin Chinese and wish to improve their conversational skills. The focus is on the spoken language as it is used in practical everyday situations and the topics will include shopping, eating, entertainment and hobbies.

The language learning will be complemented with an exploration of culture. You will learn about Chinese social etiquettes, especially on how to conduct daily conversations with Chinese people.

This course is offered for both individuals and groups and can be tailor-made to meet specific needs.

**With an e-learning course you get detailed and ongoing feedback on recordings of readings of texts and own language production, as well as a variety of written assignments aimed at training word order and vocabulary. With classroom teaching you also get days with face-to-face teaching. Teaching days are comprised of language training, primarily simulated communication situations, in combination with cultural presentations and training.*
